RED CROSS HAS TWO DAYS TO GET $4,000 BALANCE

With York Springs and New Oxford districts turning in large sums during the last 24 hours, the Adams County Red Cross War Relief campaign reached $18,506.91 today with two days to go before the close of the current drive Friday.

Officials of the drive however were still confident that the county total by the end of March will nearly reach the $26,500 set by national Red Cross as the county's share of the funds needed to carry on the tremendous work of the Red Cross in assisting the men and women of the armed forces and their parents and families at home.

Persons who have not been solicited so far were again urged to turn in donations rather than wait for solicitors who may not be able to reach outlying homes in time for the close of the drive. Solicitors were urged to put on an extra drive

$4,000 To Go

Adams county is within $4,000 of going "over the top" in the 1944 Red Cross War Fund campaign.

This morning headquarters reported $18,506.91 on hand and a survey of county districts indicates about $4,000 has been collected but has not been reported. Presumably, therefore, $22,500 or 85% of the $26,500 quota has been subscribed, leaving only $4,000 to be raised today, tomorrow and Friday to maintain the county's unblemished record.

Campaign leaders again appeal to solicitors to redouble their efforts and also urge persons who have not contributed to send their contributions to the office by Friday.

They declare that in order to claim success, the quota must be reached by Friday, otherwise, for the first time in Red Cross history Adams county will have failed to contribute its allotted share of the national campaign fund.

to secure second donations where persons had expressed a desire to "give more later" and district leaders were asked to turn in all sums in their possession as soon as possible so that a complete report can be made Friday.

Towns Reporting

Adams county has always reached its quotas, it was pointed out today, and it is hoped that sufficient impetus will be given to the current drive by solicitors and by those who have not as yet donated to put the county over the top within the time limit set. Two districts have not reported any collections to date, although it is understood that large sums have been collected in those areas.

The York Springs area turned in $617 additional Tuesday, to bring the total from that district to $1,027.52. Among the larger donations was $105 from the York Springs Lions club.

New Oxford turned in $433.47 to bring the total from that area so far to $1,132.97. Among the larger donations from New Oxford were $100 each from Mrs. Grace Taylor Himes and Charles K. Yeager. Fifty dollars from William D. Himes and Mrs. D. E. Winebrenner; $25 from Mrs. Helen M. McKinley and $15 from St. Mary's Parish.

Seek 150 Pints Of Blood Here Friday

More than 250 Adams countians have received appointments between noon and 4:15 o'clock Friday afternoon to give one pint of blood each during the monthly visit of the Red Cross blood receiving unit from Harrisburg.

In spite of expected absentees and some rejections because of colds or ill health, the local Blood Donor Service committee hopes to collect a minimum of 150 pints on the visit.

The canteen committee from Biglerville will serve in the dining room at the donor station in the basement of the College Lutheran church and ladies of the Catholic church of Gettysburg will be on duty in the kitchen.

COOPERATION IN WELFARE WORK IS EMPHASIZED

The importance of close cooperation between all social agencies in a community in solving its social ills was emphasized by Paul L. Benjamin, executive director of the Public Charities association of Philadelphia, in an address before the Adams county Welfare committee, Tuesday evening at the YWCA building.

Speaking on the subject "A Rural Community in Action," Mr. Benjamin declared: "Any group with a real concern in a problem has a right to share in the efforts to solve the problem."

"It is good mental hygiene to work cooperatively on constructive community problems," the speaker asserted as he predicted more and bigger social problems in the immediate future with the case of the returned soldier topping the list. That problem, he said, is "already here" and it must be dealt with now, for in many ways the "post-war" period already has begun.

Plan Welfare Directory

"If democracy is to continue, citizens must be willing to give themselves to community service more fully than ever before. You are helping make secure the future of our own civilization by your actions and interest in welfare work in Adams county," he concluded.

Earlier in his address Mr. Benjamin had stressed the importance of group work and recreational programs for youth. He also explained the degree to which success in case work depends upon personal contacts and the securing of background information. "Social work presents a tremendous challenge and great demands for the finest possible training and preparation social workers can offer," he declared.

During a brief business session the county committee directed its president, Paul A. Kinsey, to name a committee to compile information to be included in a county directory.

Charge To Follow Car-Truck Crash

George A. Shoemaker, Jr., Chambersburg, will be charged before an Idaville justice of the peace with leaving a parked position in the path of oncoming traffic as a result of an accident this morning at 9:30 o'clock in Idaville, Pvt. George Evanko, of the local state police, said today.

Private Evanko will lay the charge which resulted from a collision between a truck driven by Shoemaker and owned by Bruce N. Stevens, Chambersburg, and a car driven by R. C. Prowell, Biglerville. Shoemaker had delivered soft drinks at an Idaville store and pulled across the highway to enter the Idaville-York Springs road, when he struck the Prowell vehicle, it was stated. Damage was estimated at $150.

Trainers Of Fliers

Harold Hoffman Wolfinger, was born at Harrow, Bucks county, September 27, 1911, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Wolfinger. He attended Bucksville grade school and Revere high school. He was a full fashion hosiery knitter and a member of the board of directors of the Pequest Hosiery Mills, Inc., of Belvidere, N. J., before he took up flying.

Wolfinger started flying in 1940 at Braden's Flying Service, Easton, Pa., where he accumulated 160 hours of flying time and a private license. He started his cross-country training at Red Bank, N. J., and then moved to Springfield, Ohio, when the Army closed airports along the eastern coast.

After completing the course at Springfield he was sent to the Scranton Airways for his secondary instructor's course and then came to the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics for his standardization course. He received his commercial instructor's rating while here and has been employed at the local airport since April 4, 1943. Wolfinger has flown more than 975 hours.

RECORD SALVAGE COLLECTION IS MADE TUESDAY

Gettysburg on Tuesday afternoon turned in the largest amount of salvage materials since the local firemen began monthly collections over a year ago, Vernon B. Corie, chairman of the firemen's salvage committee, said today.

Covering nearly the entire town during a drive that began early Tuesday afternoon and ended late Tuesday evening, the firemen collected 11 tons, 480 pounds of scrap paper, the largest amount ever turned in during any one drive. The previous high was slightly over ten tons.

In addition to the paper the firemen collected a "good quantity" of rags and a "small amount" of scrap iron. A small number of tin cans was also collected.

Because most of the tin can collection has been made by the town's school children, the firemen have made no special effort to collect tin. However, the committee today asked parents and friends of school children to turn over to the youngsters all tin cans at hand so that a complete collection of the cans can be made from the schools next week. As soon as the cans are collected they will be shipped by truck to Baltimore to a detinning plant.

Next Drive In April

The firemen today thanked residents of the town for their cooperation in securing the record amount of paper salvage and pointed out that most of the paper could be loaded directly from the fire trucks to a railroad car which is being filled for shipment to a paper processing plant. Because some of the paper was not placed in bundles for the firemen that work was being completed today and the car was being held until the paper could be properly baled.

With the next drive scheduled for early in April the firemen today asked the people of the town to continue saving the paper for the forthcoming drive and at the same time urged that rags be saved for the scrap collection. Rags have become one of the wartime scarcities and are greatly needed, it was stated. Some sections of the town which the firemen could not visit Tuesday were being covered today.

Indian Gurkha Troops Are Forced To Abandon "Hangman's Hill" Near Battle-Scarred Cassino

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 29 (AP)—Indian Gurkha troops who had clung stubbornly to Hangman's Hill, an exposed knob just below the peak of Monastery Hill overlooking Cassino, have been withdrawn, headquarters disclosed today as violent artillery and mortar duels thundered in and around the town.

At the same time Allied photographic interpreters reported that medium bombers had cut all the rail lines from northern Italy to the German frontline area.

Hangman's Hill had been occupied by the Gurkha troops for nearly two weeks, and they could be fed and supplied sufficiently only by air. Withdrawal of New Zealanders from Hill 202 on the slopes of Monastery Hill also was disclosed.

Nazis Hold Hill

The strategic importance of the two features was lost when the general offensive against Cassino failed to dislodge the Germans, it was explained.

This, plus the difficulties of removing the wounded and bringing airborne supplies made continued retention of the high ground valueless, headquarters officers said. Allied heavy guns laid down a barrage on German positions in the vicinity of the strongly defended Continental hotel, smashing a German troop concentration forming up near the ruins of the hostelry. German multi barrel guns, with tank artillery supporting, hammered at Hill 193.

1,500 Aerial Sorties

French troops also smashed another small assault on Hill 915, which they are holding. Allied artillery scattered a German infantry formation taking positions for an attack three miles west of Cisterna in the beachhead below Rome. Anti-aircraft batteries downed four out of 25 air raiders and Spitfire patrols destroyed three more. All of the German bombs fell into the sea without hitting any ships.

Allied planes flew more than 1,500 sorties yesterday, shooting down a total of 13 enemy craft against a loss of 10. About 40 German planes were sighted over the battle area.

Churchill Demands Vote Of Confidence From Commons

By ERNEST AGNEW

London, March 29 (AP)—To the cheers-of-the House of Commons Prime Minister Churchill today bluntly demanded its support all down the line for his government's program and called for a vote of confidence, staking his war leadership on the single issue of an amendment to an education bill.

Taking up the challenge posed by a one-vote defeat last night, the grim-faced prime minister declined to distinguish between a domestic problem and the basic issue of the government's leadership.

At the next sitting of Commons, he said, an amendment providing for equal pay for men and women teachers—written in over the government's objection—will be stricken out by the government and "this act of deletion will be regarded as a vote of confidence in the present administration. If the government does not secure an adequate majority (supporting deletion of the amendment) it will entail the usual constitutional consequences."

These are the resignation of the government and the formation of a new cabinet. (British censorship does not permit correspondents to tell when Commons will meet next but it may be tomorrow.)

To suggestions that the amendment in no way invoked lack of confidence, Churchill declared: "I cannot attempt to control the activities of members. I can merely offer them some suggestions as to the consequences which may attend their actions. Certainly we cannot go on to the present basis of a government which has been defeated, after the language used from this bench, and into the very great tasks that lie immediately in front of us."

He was interrupted often by cheers and once—when he declared "it really is impossible to distinguish between a vote on domestic policy and a vote on the general policy of the war in this country"—by some cries of "rubbish."

Yanks Down 2,100 German Airplanes In Eight Weeks

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

London, March 29 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses plunged deep into central Germany today and Liberators pounded the Pas-de-Calais coastal area of France in the campaign described officially as "aimed primarily against the Luftwaffe on the ground and in the air."

It was this month's 24th great assault by the U. S. bombers, a new monthly record in the offensive which Maj.-Gen. James H. Doolittle announced last night had destroyed more than 2,100 German planes in the last eight weeks. This toll was taken by American airmen flying from Britain alone.

Fighter escorts accompanied the Fortresses into central Germany. The double-barreled strike against Germany and France followed a lashing of four airdromes in France Tuesday by 250 to 500 American fighters failed to return from the raids, directed against Chartres, 40 miles southwest of Paris; Chateaudun, 30 miles farther southwest, Reims, 80 miles northeast and Dijon, 160 miles southeast of Paris.

Two American bombers and three fighters failed to return from the raids, directed against Chartres, 40 miles southwest of Paris; Chateaudun, 30 miles farther southwest, Reims, 80 miles northeast and Dijon, 160 miles southeast of Paris.

Ukrainian Army Pressing Toward Seaport Of Odessa

London, March 29 (AP)—General Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army pushed across the south Russian steppes from captured Nikolaev toward the great Black Sea port of Odessa today, while 300 miles to the northwest other Russian forces were reported within 40 miles of the Czechoslovakian frontier.

The Russians were advancing on Odessa, along a curving 175-mile front. Further west in Bessarabia, a Soviet communiqué said, units of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian Army were within eight miles of the Odessa-Tiraspoli railroad—last principal escape artery from the port.

Spearheads of Malinovsky's forces, which captured Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug already were reported across the Bug estuary, driving along the coastal roads that lead to Odessa, 75 miles to the west. Other columns were plunging south from bridgeheads 60 to 80 miles upstream, where, the Russians said, Domaneyka and 40 other towns and villages fell to Soviet arms. Domaneyka is 77 miles north of Odessa.

Berlin asserted that Konev's army, stretched along the east bank of the Prut river boundary line of old Rumania, had crossed that stream to assault the strategic rail junction city of Iasi, but neither the Russian communiqué nor front dispatches confirmed this report of the first Soviet invasion of Axis territory.

The Second Ukrainian Army was busy on other sectors of the center, however, driving south to take the towns of Tsyra and Kosehn not far from the lateral railway into Rumania. Other units operating to the north, Moscow said, captured Lunkovtsy, 15 miles southeast of Kamenets-Podolsk, thus narrowing the neck of the sack on large German forces reported cut off in their retreat from Proskurov.

RED CROSS HAS TWO DAYS TO GET $4,000 BALANCE

With York Springs and New Oxford districts turning in large sums during the last 24 hours, the Adams County Red Cross War Relief campaign reached $18,506.91 today with two days to go before the close of the current drive Friday.

Officials of the drive however were still confident that the county total by the end of March will nearly reach the $26,500 set by national Red Cross as the county's share of the funds needed to carry on the tremendous work of the Red Cross in assisting the men and women of the armed forces and their parents and families at home.

Persons who have not been solicited so far were again urged to turn in donations rather than wait for solicitors who may not be able to reach outlying homes in time for the close of the drive. Solicitors were urged to put on an extra drive

$4,000 To Go

Adams county is within $4,000 of going "over the top" in the 1944 Red Cross War Fund campaign.

This morning headquarters reported $18,506.91 on hand and a survey of county districts indicates about $4,000 has been collected but has not been reported. Presumably, therefore, $22,500 or 85% of the $26,500 quota has been subscribed, leaving only $4,000 to be raised today, tomorrow and Friday to maintain the county's unblemished record.

Campaign leaders again appeal to solicitors to redouble their efforts and also urge persons who have not contributed to send their contributions to the office by Friday.

They declare that in order to claim success, the quota must be reached by Friday, otherwise, for the first time in Red Cross history Adams county will have failed to contribute its allotted share of the national campaign fund.

to secure second donations where persons had expressed a desire to "give more later" and district leaders were asked to turn in all sums in their possession as soon as possible so that a complete report can be made Friday.

Towns Reporting

Adams county has always reached its quotas, it was pointed out today, and it is hoped that sufficient impetus will be given to the current drive by solicitors and by those who have not as yet donated to put the county over the top within the time limit set. Two districts have not reported any collections to date, although it is understood that large sums have been collected in those areas.

The York Springs area turned in $617 additional Tuesday, to bring the total from that district to $1,027.52. Among the larger donations was $105 from the York Springs Lions club.

New Oxford turned in $433.47 to bring the total from that area so far to $1,132.97. Among the larger donations from New Oxford were $100 each from Mrs. Grace Taylor Himes and Charles K. Yeager. Fifty dollars from William D. Himes and Mrs. D. E. Winebrenner; $25 from Mrs. Helen M. McKinley and $15 from St. Mary's Parish.

The canteen committee from Biglerville will serve in the dining room at the donor station in the basement of the College Lutheran church and ladies of the Catholic church of Gettysburg will be on duty in the kitchen.

COOPERATION IN WELFARE WORK IS EMPHASIZED

The importance of close cooperation between all social agencies in a community in solving its social ills was emphasized by Paul L. Benjamin, executive director of the Public Charities association of Philadelphia, in an address before the Adams county Welfare committee, Tuesday evening at the YWCA building.

Speaking on the subject "A Rural Community in Action," Mr. Benjamin declared: "Any group with a real concern in a problem has a right to share in the efforts to solve the problem."

"It is good mental hygiene to work cooperatively on constructive community problems," the speaker asserted as he predicted more and bigger social problems in the immediate future with the case of the returned soldier topping the list. That problem, he said, is "already here" and it must be dealt with now, for in many ways the "post-war" period already has begun."

Plan Welfare Directory
"If democracy is to continue, citizens must be willing to give themselves to community service more fully than ever before. You are helping make secure the future of our own civilization by your actions and interest in welfare work in Adams county," he concluded.

Earlier in his address Mr. Benjamin had stressed the importance of group work and recreational programs for youth. He also explained the degree to which success in case work depends upon personal contacts and the securing of background information. "Social work presents a tremendous challenge and great demands for the finest possible training and preparation social workers can offer," he declared.

During a brief business session the county committee directed its president, Paul A. Kinsey, to name a committee to compile information to be included in a county directory.

Private Evanko will lay the charge which resulted from a collision between a truck driven by Shoemaker and owned by Bruce N. Stevens, Chambersburg, and a car driven by R. C. Prowell, Biglerville. Shoemaker had delivered soft drinks at an Idaville store and pulled across the highway to enter the Idaville-York Springs road, when he struck the Prowell vehicle, it was stated. Damage was estimated at $150.

He received his commercial instructor's rating while here and has been employed at the local airport since April 4, 1943.

RECORD SALVAGE COLLECTION IS MADE TUESDAY

Gettysburg on Tuesday afternoon turned in the largest amount of salvage materials since the local firemen began monthly collections over a year ago, Vernon B. Corle, chairman of the firemen's salvage committee, said today.

Covering nearly the entire town during a drive that began early Tuesday afternoon and ended late Tuesday evening, the firemen collected 11 tons, 480 pounds of scrap paper, the largest amount ever turned in during any one drive. The previous high was slightly over ten tons.

In addition to the paper the firemen collected a "good quantity" of rags and a "small amount" of scrap iron. A small number of tin cans was also collected.

Because most of the tin can collection has been made by the town's school children, the firemen have made no special effort to collect tin. However, the committee today asked parents and friends of school children to turn over to the youngsters all tin cans at hand so that a complete collection of the cans can be made from the schools next week. As soon as the cans are collected they will be shipped by truck to Baltimore to a detinning plant.

Next Drive In April

The firemen today thanked residents of the town for their cooperation in securing the record amount of paper salvage and pointed out that most of the paper could be loaded directly from the fire trucks to a railroad car which is being filled for shipment to a paper processing plant. Because some of the paper was not placed in bundles for the firemen that work was being completed today and the car was being held until the paper could be properly baled.

With the next drive scheduled for early in April the firemen today asked the people of the town to continue saving the paper for the forthcoming drive and at the same time urged that rags be saved for the scrap collection. Rags have become one of the wartime scarcities and are greatly needed, it was stated. Some sections of the town which the firemen could not visit Tuesday were being covered today.

Indian Gurkha Troops Are Forced To Abandon "Hangman's Hill" Near Battle-Scarred Cassino

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 29 (AP)—Indian Gurkha troops who had clung stubbornly to Hangman's Hill, an exposed knob just below the peak of Monastery Hill overlooking Cassino, have been withdrawn, headquarters disclosed today as violent artillery and mortar duels thundered in and around the town.

At the same time Allied photographic interpreters reported that medium bombers had cut all the rail lines from northern Italy to the German frontline area.

Hangman's Hill had been occupied by the Gurkha troops for nearly two weeks, and they could be fed and supplied sufficiently only by air. Withdrawal of New Zealanders from Hill 202 on the slopes of Monastery Hill also was disclosed.

Nazis Hold Hill

The strategic importance of the two features was lost when the general offensive against Cassino failed to dislodge the Germans, it was explained.

This, plus the difficulties of removing the wounded and bringing airborne supplies made continued retention of the high ground valueless, headquarters officers said.

Allied heavy guns laid down a barrage on German positions in the vicinity of the strongly defended Continental hotel, smashing a German troop concentration forming up near the ruins of the hotel. German multi barrel guns, with tank artillery supporting, hammered at Hill 193.

1,500 Aerial Sorties

French troops also smashed another small assault on Hill 915, which they are holding.

Allied artillery scattered a German infantry formation taking positions for an attack three miles west of Cassino in the beachhead below Rome. Anti-aircraft batteries downed four out of 25 air raiders and Spitfire patrols destroyed three more. All of the German bombs fell into the sea without hitting any ships.

Allied planes flew more than 1,500 sorties yesterday, shooting down a total of 13 enemy craft against a loss of 10. About 40 German planes were sighted over the battle area.

Churchill Demands Vote Of Confidence From Commons

By ERNEST AGNEW

London, March 29 (AP)—To the cheers of the House of Commons Prime Minister Churchill today bluntly demanded its support all down the line for his government's program and called for a vote of confidence, staking his war leadership on the single issue of an amendment to an education bill.

Taking up the challenge posed by a one-vote defeat last night, the grim-faced prime minister declined to distinguish between a domestic problem and the basic issue of the government's leadership.

At the next sitting of Commons, he said, an amendment providing for equal pay for men and women teachers—written in over the government's objection—will be stricken out by the government and "this act of deletion will be regarded as a vote of confidence in the present administration. If the government does not secure an adequate majority (supporting deletion of the amendment) it will entail the usual constitutional consequences."

These are the resignation of the government and the formation of a new cabinet. (British censorship does not permit correspondents to tell when Commons will meet next but it may be tomorrow.)

To suggestions that the amendment in no way invoked lack of confidence, Churchill declared:

"I cannot attempt to control the activities of members. I can merely offer them some suggestions as to the consequences which may attend their actions. Certainly we cannot go on to the present basis of a government which has been defeated, after the language used from this bench, and into the very great tasks that lie immediately in front of us."

He was interrupted often by cheers and once—when he declared "it really is impossible to distinguish between a vote on domestic policy and a vote on the general policy of the war in this country"—by some cries of "rubbish."

Two American bombers and three fighters failed to return from the raids, directed against Chartres, 40 miles southwest of Paris; Chateaudun, 30 miles farther southwest, Reims, 80 miles northeast and Dijon, 160 miles southeast of Paris.

Ukrainian Army Pressing Toward Seaport Of Odessa

London, March 29 (AP)—Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army pushed across the south Russian steppes from captured Nikolaev toward the great Black Sea port of Odessa today, while 300 miles to the northwest other Russian forces were reported within 40 miles of the Czechoslovakian frontier.

The Russians were advancing on Odessa, along a curving 175-mile front. Further west in Bessarabia, a Soviet communiqué said, units of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian Army were within eight miles of the Odessa-Tiraspol railway—last principal escape artery from the port.

Spearheads of Malinovsky's forces which captured Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug already were reported across the Bug estuary, driving along the coastal roads that lead to Odessa, 75 miles to the west. Other columns were plunging south

ANALYZES WAR CONDITIONS ON ITALIAN FRONT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

British Prime Minister Churchill's expression of disappointment in the progress of the Italian campaign, and his refusal to debate the subject in the House of Commons, rather invites public discussion of a politico-military situation which has been regarded as belonging to the hush-hush variety.

"Perhaps," said Mr. Churchill in answer to a pressing question, "There may not be sufficient progress of operations for any statement to be made by the government. I certainly have not concealed my disappointment that progress has not been quicker."

The premier's blunt declaration of disappointment may help clear the air. He isn't the only one disappointed. What then are the facts about the Italian show?

Naples Was Necessary

This column has stated previously—that the operations in their present stage are subsidiary to the main assault on the continent proper. It was essential at the outset that the Allies conquer the lower part of the Italian peninsula. It was vital that we possess the great port of Naples and the thirteen airfields of Foglia from which the Allied bombers can rove over the Balkans and into Hitler's eastern domains.

All that was necessary. However, the subsequent offensive which has had Rome as its objective would seem to have been more for its moral effect than for military reasons, although there obviously would be military advantages in possessing the eternal city. The point is that we don't have to take it.

Progress in the winter campaign has been slow for several reasons. The Germans have been holding mountain positions which are so strong that they could have withstood the attack of far greater forces than have been sent against them. The Allied position has been made much more difficult by the winter weather and awful mud which have fought on the side of the defenders.

Somebody Was Wrong

Probably the real key to Allied difficulties lies in the fact that the vast preparations for the invasion of western Europe have prevented the high command from devoting more men and equipment to the Italian campaign. Apparently somebody underestimated the difficulties of an offensive up the peninsula to Rome.

And who can say how much the operations have missed the skill and driving power of Britain's General Montgomery and America's blood and guts Patton—two of the greatest field leaders the war has produced? These two would have been a strong addition to the undoubtedly good generals already in the field.

Positions Secure

As for the failure to take Cassino after the big blitz, this column warned readers at the time of the unprecedented bombardment not to jump to the conclusion that there had been success, because it looked as though there was a lot of hard fighting still to be done there. It was a lesson not to overestimate the efficacy of air power.

The Anzio beachhead attack was advertised as a three-ring circus when it was only a side-show. It was intended as a diversion, to stampede the Nazis into withdrawing troops from the Cassino sector in the Allied line to the south. It didn't work—and that was that. We didn't fool the Germans. Nothing more could be made of it without extending it into a major amphibious invasion.

It can be added that the Allied positions seem to be secure, despite the lack of progress.

He has reported back to his base in New York where he expects a transfer to an aircraft carrier.

REPORT CHANGE IN UNIT SYSTEM ON FARM DRAFT

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Yielding to demands from agricultural state Senators, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, agreed today to leave local draft boards the responsibility for deferment of farm workers.

Emerging from a closed conference with Hershey and Marvin Jones, War Food administrator, Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of a Senate agricultural committee, announced that Hershey had agreed to scrap the unit system which long has been the basis for farm deferments.

Russell and Senator Tydings (D-Md) said the decision, which Hershey promised to put into operation immediately, should have the effect of stemming "military inroads upon farms which imperil war food production."

Regular Work Required

Instead of the unit system, under which farm worker deferments are based on the extent of production of livestock or commodities in which the employee is engaged, the so-called Tydings amendment, passed by Congress two years ago, will be the new yardstick, Russell and Tydings reported.

Under it, local draft boards may defer workers if they are "regularly engaged" in the production of essential farm commodities and they can not be replaced on the farms where they are employed.

"We also are going to consider new legislation under which a farmer rejected for military service because of physical handicaps can not leave his farm to go to work in a war plant without the permission of his draft board," Russell announced.

ANALYZES WAR CONDITIONS ON ITALIAN FRONT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

British Prime Minister Churchill's expression of disappointment in the progress of the Italian campaign, and his refusal to debate the subject in the House of Commons, rather invites public discussion of a politico-military situation which has been regarded as belonging to the hush-hush variety.

"Perhaps," said Mr. Churchill in answer to a pressing question, "There may not be sufficient progress of operations for any statement to be made by the government. I certainly have not concealed my disappointment that progress has not been quicker."

The premier's blunt declaration of disappointment may help clear the air. He isn't the only one disappointed. What then are the facts about the Italian show?

Naples Was Necessary

This column has stated previously—that the operations in their present stage are subsidiary to the main assault on the continent proper. It was essential at the outset that the Allies conquer the lower part of the Italian peninsula. It was vital that we possess the great port of Naples and the thirteen airfields of Puglia from which the Allied bombers can rove over the Balkans and into Hitler's eastern domains.

All that was necessary. However, the subsequent offensive which has had Rome as its objective would seem to have been more for its moral effect than for military reasons, although there obviously would be military advantages in possessing the eternal city. The point is that we don't have to take it.

Progress in the winter campaign has been slow for several reasons. The Germans have been holding mountain positions which are so strong that they could have withstood the attack of far greater forces than have been sent against them. The Allied position has been made much more difficult by the winter weather and awful mud which have fought on the side of the defenders.

Somebody Was Wrong

Probably the real key to Allied difficulties lies in the fact that the vast preparations for the invasion of western Europe have prevented the high command from devoting more men and equipment to the Italian campaign. Apparently somebody underestimated the difficulties of an offensive up the peninsula to Rome.

And who can say how much the operations have missed the skill and driving power of Britain's General Montgomery and America's blood and guts Patton—two of the greatest field leaders the war has produced? These two would have been a strong addition to the undoubtedly good generals already in the field.

Positions Secure

As for the failure to take Cassino after the big blitz, this column warned readers at the time of the unprecedented bombardment not to jump to the conclusion that there had been success, because it looked as though there was a lot of hard fighting still to be done there. It was a lesson not to overestimate the efficacy of air power.

The Anzio beachhead attack was advertised as a three-ring circus when it was only a side-show. It was intended as a diversion, to stampede the Nazis into withdrawing troops from the Cassino sector in the Allied line to the south. It didn't work—and that was that. We didn't fool the Germans. Nothing more could be made of it without extending it into a major amphibious invasion.

It can be added that the Allied positions seem to be secure, despite the lack of progress.

Countdown Wounded For Second Time

Serving with an infantry unit in Italy, Pvt. Harry J. Smith, son of Mrs. Minnie Smith, Penbrook, has been wounded in action for the second time.

Smith is a native of Adams county. His brother, Claude, resides in Latimore township.

The 38-year-old soldier, in a letter to his mother, said he would "eat shrapnel two times a day and three times on Sunday if it would help to lick the Germans."

Private Smith first was struck by shrapnel near Naples last October. He recuperated, joined his unit, and was injured again early this month. He has been at the base hospital at Oran, North Africa, since the second injury occurred.

The Penbrook soldier was employed as a lunch counter manager when he was inducted in June, 1941. He was trained at Fort Meade, Md., and was sent overseas to participate in the invasion of North Africa. He later was among the invading forces of Sicily and Italy.

WAR ROMANCE

Harrisburg, March 29 (AP)—A romance which began in North Africa culminated there March 14 in the marriage of First Lt. Erma M. Light of Harrisburg of the Army Nurse Corps and First Lt. Gene L. Gampfer, of Dayton, O., the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Light, announced today. A chaplain performed the ceremony in the chapel of an Army hospital with the couple leaving in an Army jeep for a honeymoon.

REPORT CHANGE IN UNIT SYSTEM ON FARM DRAFT

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Yielding to demands from agricultural state Senators, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, agreed today to leave local draft boards the responsibility for deferment of farm workers.

Emerging from a closed conference with Hershey and Marvin Jones, War Food administrator, Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of a Senate agricultural committee, announced that Hershey had agreed to scrap the unit system which long had been the basis for farm deferments.

Russell and Senator Tydings (D-Md) said the decision, which Hershey promised to put into operation immediately, should have the effect of stemming "military inroads upon farms which imperil war food production."

Regular Work Required

Instead of the unit system, under which farm worker deferments are based on the extent of production of livestock or commodities in which the employee is engaged, the so-called Tydings amendment, passed by Congress two years ago, will be the new yardstick, Russell and Tydings reported.

Under it, local draft boards may defer workers if they are "regularly engaged" in the production of essential farm commodities and they can not be replaced on the farms where they are employed.

"We also are going to consider new legislation under which a farmer rejected for military service because of physical handicaps can not leave his farm to go to work in a war plant without the permission of his draft board," Russell announced.

Bulletins

New York, March 29 (AP)—The defense of Wayne Lonergan, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of his heless wife, Patricia, suddenly rested its case today at 11:14 a. m., after calling only three witnesses. Lonergan did not testify.

Washington, March 29 (AP)—The CIO political action committee was assailed by the House committee investigating un-American activities today as representing "in its main outlines a subversive Communist campaign to subvert the Congress of the United States to its totalitarian program."

In a 200-page report bristling with criticism of the CIO group and many of its leaders, the committee headed by Rep. Dies (D-Tex) asserted that in the coming elections the "Communists will throw their entire weight into the CIO political action committee."

"Their political leader will be, in effect, Sidney Hillman instead of Earl Browder," the Dies committee said.

Washington March 29 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told the House Military committee today the draft had arrived for 3,500,000 4-F's between the ages of 18 and 37 to be assigned to essential industry or to be inducted into the Army in labor battalions.

State Joins Texas In Oil Rights Fight

Harrisburg, March 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania today joined Texas in a move to return to the states exclusive regulation in spacing, drilling and producing oil and gas wells.

Governor Martin advised Governor Coke Stevenson he is in "full accord" with the Lone Star state executive's statement that "the time has come for the states to recover their sovereign rights" in oil matters.

The Texas railroad commission has prepared a resolution calling on the federal government to relinquish control over oil and gas drilling and production and will present it at a meeting of the interstate oil compact commission at New Orleans on April 3-4. "The commission regulates the oil industry."

Blame Mice For Missing Gas Stamps

Erie, Pa., March 29 (AP)—Henry Fitch, a filling station operator, testified at an OPA hearing yesterday that mice ate coupons covering 3,900 gallons of gasoline for which he was unable to account.

"Do you mean," asked OPA examiner Allan J. Carruthers at a hearing, "mice would eat coupons when there was plenty of food in the grocery store you operated in conjunction with the station?"

"They seemed to like the coupons better," said Fitch, who was ordered to suspend gasoline sales for the duration.

The Army announced today that two privates of the Womens Army Corps had replaced three technical sergeants as enlisted aides to Secretary of War Stimson.

HAZLETON NIPS LOWER MERION; DUQUESNE WINS

Philadelphia, March 29 (AP)—Hazleton's Mountaineers did it. Playing with the vengeance of long years of futile effort, flashing coordination and speed that amazed even avid, college and pro fans, fielding a star—Carl "Red" Meinhold—whom some experts called the best seen in action here this year, Coach Hughie McGeehan's Hazleton high basketballers last night ended Lower Merion's three-year reign over PIAA basketball.

The upstarters crushed Lower Merion, 59-31, before a shouting, cheering crowd of 9,200 in Convention Hall and thus won the right to meet Duquesne high on the same court Saturday night for the PIAA title. While Hazleton was winning the eastern regional final, Duquesne stopped Sharon, 37-25, in Pitt stadium, Pittsburgh, for the western crown.

Acres Outclassed
At the opening whistle, Hazleton unleashed a hurricane assault that set the Main Liners on their heels and kept them there to the end. The Mountaineers limited Lower Merion to a single field goal in each of the first two periods while running up leads of 15-6 and 32-12. The lead skyrocketed to 45-17 at the end of the third quarter, each team scored 14 in the final.

Meinhold, a 6 foot 4 center with an uncanny eye, scored 25 points, only two short of the Convention Hall schoolboy record of Francis Henkel, Southeast Catholic, Philadelphia. He received a minor knee injury late in the game and had to quit, and only then were the two teams on even terms.

Meinhold's teammate, husky Al Degalis, who rolled up 15 points, scored three field goals in the first two or three minutes to start Lower Merion toward its first defeat in 61 PIAA league and playoff games over a four-year period.

Records Fall
It was the first time in eight years that Lower Merion had lost the eastern final. It was the highest score ever chalked up against a Lower Merion team, and it was the first time more than 50 points had been tallied against an aggregation coached by the Main Liners' cage-wise Bill Anderson.

Hazleton did what no team had been able to accomplish since Lebanon turned the trick in 1940. And the triumph gave the team an opportunity to equal Lower Merion's four state championships, the Mountaineers having won in 1928, 1929 and 1938.

Hank Belber and Stan Peacock led the Maroons' weak-kneed attack with 10 and nine points respectively, but neither compared with Meinhold, who registered nine field goals and seven fouls on nine attempts. Philadelphia writers said the rangy red-head ranked with the finest schoolboy players in the state's history.

CHANGES MADE IN CAGE RULES

New York, March 29 (AP)—The "string beans" of high school and college basketball no longer will be able to jump up and bat the ball away from the basket when it appears a field goal is certain.

Complying with a widespread demand by coaches that excessively tall players be prevented from using their length for such an advantage, the National Basketball Committee yesterday adopted a rule that prohibits players from touching the ball on its downward arc, unless the shot is obviously short of the hoop.

The committee also adopted three other rule changes in concluding a two-day session. These provide for five, instead of four personal fouls, before a player is banished from the game; permit a player to re-enter the game an unlimited number of times; and grant the officials authority to suspend play immediately in case of an injury to a player. The new rules, effective next season, will be tried out at Madison Square Garden Thursday when two service teams, Mitchell Field (NY) and Aberdeen (Md) Proving Grounds, play a preliminary to the Utah-St. John's Red Cross benefit game.

Barker Resigns As Diplomat Mentor

Lancaster, Pa., March 29 — Richard W. Barker, head football coach at Franklin and Marshall College for the past two years, has resigned effective August 1, it was learned today.

Dr. Theodore Distler, president of the college to whom the resignation was sent, was out of the city and could not be reached for comment.

Barker refused to comment on the report but it is known he has been trying to leave the post since the spring of 1943. Last year he decided to remain for another season and his team was regarded as one of the greatest in the history of the college.

ALL FIRE, NO SMOKE

The reason why you never see George Parnassus, Juan Zurita's pilot, with one of those long seagars affected by successful fight managers goes back to his experience as a Phoenix, Arizona, restaurateur. . . . Seeing 10-gallon hats on every masculine head, George invested $40 in a white one. . . . As he stepped from the store, he met a feminine acquaintance and bowed with a hat-sweeping gesture that knocked a lighted cigaret out of his left hand. . . . After chatting a moment, Parnassus smelled smoke and discovered that the cigaret had burned a hole through the peak of his new $40 headgear. . . . Right then George tossed both the hat and the smokes into the street and vowed he'd never smoke again—and he hasn't.

LOU NOVIKOFF MISSING FROM CHICAGO CAMP

By TED MEIER

New York, March 29 (AP)—Lou Novikoff, the "Mad Russian," apparently is up to his old trick of giving the Chicago Cubs the headache.

The slugging outfielder is among the absentees from the Bruins' spring camp at French Lick, Ind. Just as a year ago when Lou stayed away until after the season opened, rumors involving a Novikoff trade have started. Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is reported trying to talk Wilson into a swap for the outfielder.

Meantime the Cubs learned that pitcher Lon Warneke and outfielder Charlie Gilbert had passed their pre-induction physical exams and that slugger Jimmy Foxx will report Saturday to start his comeback.

The Chicago White Sox, also training at French Lick, were told by Johnny Humphries, one of their best pitchers, that he has been reclassified 1-A by his New Orleans draft board. Outfielder Thurman Tucker said he wasn't included in the group called up for service by April 11 and hence expected to be around to play a few games for the Sox.

News from other big league camps:

Javery Cuts Loose
St. Louis Browns—Catcher Joe Schultz was ordered confined to hotel with sore throat.

Boston Braves—Pitcher Al Javery the equivalent of three full games cut loose for first time. He pitched during batting practice.

Boston Red Sox—Outfielder Leon Culberson may be switched to infield position.

St. Louis Cardinals—Catcher Gerald Burmeister reported. Pitcher Max Lanier, out with an appendicitis attack, is expected back in uniform in a day or so.

Detroit Tigers—Draft status of catcher Paul Richards is expected to be made known today. He is scheduled to take pre-induction exam at Dallas.

Pittsburgh Pirates—A muddy diamond again forced team to work indoors.

Cleveland Indians—Team held outdoor batting drill despite cold and raw wind.

Johnston Manages Shuccio's Comeback

New York, March 29 (AP)—James J. (Jimmy) Johnson, who through long activity in the upper strata of fastlane has earned the title of "boxing's elder statesman," was more verbose than usual today—if possible.

Jimmy, known along Jacobs' Beach for his ability to manager boxers, really had something to talk about, i.e.:

Tony Shuccio, the clever Boston heavyweight who hasn't had a fight in more than a year, is coming back to the boxing wars under Johnston's management.

Shuccio, who will be 33 in June, started pro fighting in 1928, after winning 91 of 98 amateur bouts. He defeated such fighters as Jimmy Braddock, Jack Sharkey, Maxie Rosenbloom, Al Gainer and Buddy Walker.

The Bostonian's last defeat was in 1938 at the hands of Bob Pastor, who outpointed Shuccio in 10 rounds.

Bears Stay In Hockey Playoffs

(By The Associated Press)
Momentarily, at least, the Hershey Bears staved off elimination from the American hockey league semi-final playoffs by beating Cleveland, 3 to 1, last night.

The victory, witnessed by 10,553 on the Cleveland ice, left the Bears needing two consecutive wins to oust the Barons from the playoffs. Cleveland leads, three games to two, in the best four-of-seven game series. The sixth game is scheduled at Hershey Thursday night and the seventh, if necessary, at Cleveland, Saturday night.

Although lacking the services of Bill Moe, star defenseman, the Bears came from behind to win. Les Cunningham gave Cleveland a 1-0 lead in the first period, but Eric Prentice equalized that for the Bears a few minutes later. Fred Hergert slammed the puck home for the winning goal in the second period. Hec Pozzo added another for good measure in the third period.

The other semi-final series between Buffalo and Indianapolis will be resumed tonight at Buffalo. Buffalo leads by three games to one.

New York, March 29 (AP)—Munitions Agent George M. Spindler's $1,200,000 damage and breach of contract suit against the National Forge and Ordnance Company, of Irvine, Warren County, Pa., ended in a mistrial last night when the jury could not reach a verdict.

New York Giants—Ace Adams, veteran relief pitcher, worked out for first time this season. He pitched batting practice.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Curt Davis, Bob Chipman, Bill Tanner and Hal Gregg were selected to pitch today's first exhibition game against Army team.

with the gigantic task assigned to the Reading, thousands of new workers have been added; to help! Reading veterans... but many more are urgently needed to speed men and materials toward the fighting fronts.

HAZLETON NIPS LOWER MERION; DUQUESNE WINS

Philadelphia, March 29 (AP)—Hazleton's Mountaineers did it. Playing with the vengeance of long years of futile effort, flashing coordination and speed that amazed even avid college and pro fans, fielding a star—Carl "Red" Meinhold—whom some experts called the best seen in action here this year, Coach Hughie McGeehan's Hazleton high basketball last night ended Lower Merion's three-year reign over PIAA basketball.

The upstarters crushed Lower Merion, 59-31, before a shouting, cheering crowd of 9,200 in Convention Hall and thus won the right to meet Duquesne high on the same court Saturday night for the PIAA title. While Hazleton was winning the eastern regional final, Duquesne stopped Sharon, 37-25, in Pitt stadium, Pittsburgh, for the western crown.

Aces Outclassed
At the opening whistle, Hazleton unleashed a hurricane assault that set the Main Liners on their heels and kept them there to the end. The Mountaineers limited Lower Merion to a single field goal in each of the first two periods while running up leads of 15-6 and 32-12. The lead skyrocketed to 45-17 at the end of the third quarter, each team scored 14 in the final.

Meinhold, a 6 foot 4 center with an uncanny eye, scored 25 points, only two short of the Convention Hall schoolboy record of Francis Henkel, Southeast Catholic, Philadelphia. He received a minor knee injury late in the game and had to quit, and only then were the two teams on even terms.

Meinhold's teammate, husky Al Degatis, who rolled up 15 points, scored three field goals in the first two or three minutes to start Lower Merion toward its first defeat in 61 PIAA league and playoff games over a four-year period.

Records Fall
It was the first time in eight years that Lower Merion had lost the eastern final. It was the highest score ever chalked up against a Lower Merion team, and it was the first time more than 50 points had been tallied against an aggregation coached by the Main Liners' cage-wise Bill Anderson.

Bears Stay In Hockey Playoffs

(By The Associated Press)
Momentarily, at least, the Hershey Bears staved off elimination from the American hockey league semi-final playoffs by beating Cleveland, 3 to 1, last night.

The victory, witnessed by 10,553 on the Cleveland ice, left the Bears needing two consecutive wins to oust the Barons from the playoffs. Cleveland leads, three games to two, in the best four-of-seven game series. The sixth game is scheduled at Hershey Thursday night and the seventh, if necessary, at Cleveland, Saturday night.

Although lacking the services of Bill Moe, star defenseman, the Bears came from behind to win. Les Cunningham gave Cleveland a 1-0 lead in the first period, but Eric Prentice equalized that for the Bears a few minutes later. Fred Hergert slammed the puck home for the winning goal in the second period. Hec Pozzo added another for good measure in the third period.

The other semi-final series between Buffalo and Indianapolis will be resumed tonight at Buffalo. Buffalo leads by three games to one.

ONE IN SIX—Now a Fighter

The Reading Company's peace-time family of workers was nearly 18,000 strong. Up to now, 3,082 Reading men and women—one out of every six—have left their homes, loved ones and jobs to serve in the far corners of the world—to protect the things they and we cherish.

From every phase of railroad work—from the trains, shops, tracks, offices and management—Reading people now serve in all ranks in the armed forces. Many are officers . . . two are Lt. Colonels and one a Colonel.

Before Victory is won, many more will join the three thousand now in service. To cope with the gigantic task assigned to the Reading, thousands of new workers have been added to help Reading veterans . . . but many more are urgently needed to speed men and materials toward the fighting fronts.

Any man or woman interested in this essential war work should volunteer for railroad service at once. A variety of jobs—with unusual advantages—are now available. Ask any Reading Company Agent where to apply.

An Evening Thought
The first rule of education, in all lands, is never to say anything offensive to anyone.—Voltaire.

Just Folks
THE POPULAR SEASON
Some run away from winter, and from summer others flee.
Some seem to think the weather always pleasant ought to be.
The snow makes friends of children, but when skies are cold and gray
The old who can afford it pack their grips and run away;
But a cherry tree in blossom is so beautiful a thing
That no one that I know of ever runs away from spring.

When school is out, and summer sets the city streets on fire,
To the seashore and the mountains many families retire.
The blazing sun of August for their comfort is too hot,
So they linger until autumn in a favorite, cooler spot;
But a cherry tree in blossom and the birds nearby to sing
Hold so much of charm and beauty no one runs away from spring.

Likes are likes and I don't quarrel with what suits my neighbor best.
When he runs away from winter I have nothing to suggest.
When he finds the summer stifling and packs up and goes away
To a cottage by the seashore, I have not a word to say;
But I notice all come homing when the robins northward wing;
Everybody that I know stays about to greet the spring.

Today's Talk
WHEN BUDS BEGIN TO BURST
Another Springtime—of all the seasons the most dramatic and the most inspiring. Each day I shall look out of my window the first thing, upon arising, and watch for the first faint evidence that Springtime Nature is awakening from its long sleep.

The brown earth will creep into its glorious green. The spreading branches, so lean and bare, will gradually show their buds, and then under the warm rays of the Sun, from most branches will miraculously burst the leaves that soon will canopy all beneath them.

Tiny crocuses will creep into the light from the moist ground and wild violets will bloom. The cherry, the peach and the apple will scent the air with their beautiful wedding garb. All the earth will smile, and every returning bird will sing its heart into song. Nests will be built, for it's Nature's loving time.

In Springtime the streams glisten with a new glow of light and within their rushing waters new life also is full of stir and movement. Forests breathe anew and the smell of the rich earth is pungent with fragrance. Springtime is Nature's doxology.

The Springtime of man does not return. It is his one experience—his sole youth—save as he carries its spirit forever along with him. But Nature gives forth Eternal Springtime! The buds burst, the flowers bloom, and then die—but that death is significant of another birth in another Springtime. Not so with man's life, but he can live and love some scores of Springtime that Nature gives to him.

We have no way of knowing how long this earth will continue as an earth, but we do know that there may be millions of returning Springtimes, and each one will remind man of the greatness of the Creator, even though his own destiny beyond the grave is concealed from him. In like manner is the beauty and fragrance of the Rose a mystery, but none the less loved.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Be It Ever So Humble."

During January and February of 1944, 200 million more pounds of yard were produced than during the same months in 1943.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Doctor Miller a Captain: Dr. Edgar A. Miller, of the United States Medical Corps, has been promoted from the rank of first lieutenant to captain. His promotion dates from June, 1918.

Dr. Miller has been attached to the British Expeditionary Forces in France and Belgium for the past eighteen months.

Joseph Williams Killed: William Williams, colored, living along the Taneytown road, has received word from the War Department that his son, Joseph Williams, was killed in action on the battlefields of France. Williams had sent no word from France since October and his parents feared that he had fallen in one of the big drives. He left here with the first colored contingent during the summer of 1917.

R. C. Miller Appointed: Governor Sproule late Tuesday afternoon appointed Robert C. Miller, of Gettysburg, to be superintendent of the department of Public Printing and Binding and the nomination was promptly confirmed by the Senate. He succeeds D. Edward Long, of Chambersburg.

Arendt-Guise: G. Robert Arendt, of Railroad street, who recently received his discharge from the Army, and Grace Belle Guise, of Bendersville, were married by the Rev. Paul Reid Pontius at the Reformed parsonage on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arendt intend making their home in the West.

Ground Broken for Hospital: Work was started Tuesday by a large force of men on the excavation for the Annie M. Warner Hospital, which will be built by John Warner on his tract of ground west of South Washington street. Mrs. Warner turned the first shovel of dirt Monday and now a gang of twenty men are busily engaged in digging the foundations.

Raffensperger — Eicholtz: Miss Helen A. Eicholtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Eicholtz, and William Arnold Raffensperger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Raffensperger, both of Menallen township, were married on Tuesday in Arendtsville.

After returning from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Raffensperger will go to housekeeping in the Raffensperger Brothers house in Arendtsville, and will conduct the restaurant and confectionery store in that building.

Steam Laundry Changes Hands: C. Ray Rupp, of East Middle street, and Jesse Snyder, of South street, have purchased the Gettysburg Steam Laundry from George W. Rex.

Ray Rupp will move to the Steam Laundry property on Steinwehr avenue next Monday and will act as general manager of the laundry. Jesse Snyder intends to retain his position at the post office.

Dillon-Baker: Miss Lillian Baker and Francis Dillon were married on February 27 in St. Ignatius church, Buchanan Valley, by Rev. W. W. Whalen.

They will make their home in Buchanan Valley.

Dehoff-Horner: Miss Helen Madeline Harner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. Harner, Littlestown, became the bride of George Clarence Dehoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Dehoff, Germany township, Saturday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. S. Sheely, at the Reformed parsonage, Hanover, at eight o'clock.

Warner Hospital Directors Meet: The men invited by Mr. Warner to compose the first board of directors for the Annie M. Warner hospital will serve one, two and three years.

The first board will be composed of the following county men: J. A. Singmaster, W. F. Boyle, H. T. Weaver, Charles H. Smith, Edward M. Bender, John D. Keith, W. Arch McClean, of Gettysburg; F. V. Topper, McSherrystown; W. R. Starry, York Springs; Dennis C. Asper, Aspers; George W. Swartz, Cash-town; Chester J. Tyson, Flora Dale; Daniel C. Jacobs, Franklin township; Chester D. G. Big-ham, Biglersville; Millard B. Stoner, Fairfield; Elmer D. Buckey, Littlestown; Elmer C. Livingston, New Oxford.

Personal: Mr. and Mrs. James King East Middle street, announce the birth of a son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Becker, of South Washington street, announce the birth of a son.

Miss Anna Gilliland, of Carlisle street, arrived home Wednesday from St. Petersburg, Florida.

A surprise and birthday party was given Mrs. Harry Geiselman on Tuesday night at her home on East Middle street. About forty friends were present.

C. Milton Wolf has moved from Carlisle street to the house recently purchased from his father, Edward M. Wolf, 180 York street.

BELIEVE FOR SURE OF PARTY NOMINATION

Washington, March 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt apparently can say the word and win renomination on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention, a check of preliminary delegate lineups indicated today.

With strength manifest in all sections of the country, fourth term backers figured that as of today they could count on a minimum of 604 of the convention's 1,176 votes if the President decides to run.

Thus far Mr. Roosevelt has the public support of 116 of the 142 Democratic delegates chosen, including 10 each from Maine, Arizona and New Hampshire and 86 elected yesterday in New York's primaries. He also apparently will be backed by 10 more New York delegates to be chosen at a state convention.

Lining Up States
To this nucleus of 126, the fourth term adherents are adding 478 from 17 states which they believe will send delegations that will vote almost solidly for the President if he becomes a candidate. A few defections here and there would almost certainly be made up from other states not included in the survey, they said.

Preliminary steps already have been taken by party leaders in 11 of the 17 states to line up solid delegations for a fourth term. These include Pennsylvania with 72 votes, California with 52, Illinois with 54, Ohio with 52, New Jersey with 38, Wisconsin with 26, Oklahoma, 22, Connecticut, 18, West Virginia, 18, Nebraska 12, and Vermont six.

Even some outspoken opponents of the fourth term concurred in these estimates.

House Speaker Rayburn predicted in Los Angeles that Mr. Roosevelt will be renominated by acclamation unless he declares he does not want it.

Ex-Prisoner Of Nazis Now Serving in WAC

Pittsburgh, March 29 (AP)—Mary Tomczak, 26-year-old repatriate who returned only two weeks ago from two years' internment in German prison camps, was in the Women's Army corps today, ready to fulfill her resolve to "strike back at the Nazis."

She wanted to go back overseas, but heeded her family's request and asked assignment to Deshon General hospital, Butler, Pa., where she will do medical work.

Miss Tomczak went to Poland in August, 1939. Two weeks later her fiancée, a young Polish officer, was killed in the German invasion. Later she was taken prisoner. She came home on the Gripsholm March 15.

Brooding Over Draft, Father Slays Family

Independence, Wash., March 29 (AP)—Brooding over reclassification to 1-A in the draft, a 33-year-old farmer killed his four young children, his wife and himself yesterday.

Sheriff J. W. McIntosh said his investigation showed Bernard Arends wiped out his family and himself because he feared for the future of his family and prosperous farm in the Grays' Harbor area.

The Arends children slain were: Mary Frances, age 6; James Michael, 4; Robert Otto, 2, and six-weeks old baby Elizabeth.

Sheriff McIntosh said Mrs. Arends, a registered nurse, was hanging the family washing outside when the first shots were fired.

She ran in and struggled with her husband as he leveled the shotgun at her. She picked up a .22 caliber rifle without knowing how to use it, attempted to defend herself, but after a wild melee rushed out of the house.

Her husband, the sheriff said, shot her to death on the porch steps and then turned the shotgun on himself, falling over the bodies of his dead children.

LEFT WING WINS IN LABOR PARTY

New York, March 29 (AP)—Left wing forces held control of the American Labor party today after a bitter intraparty fight which might have elected Franklin D. Roosevelt's chances as a presidential candidate of winning New York's 47 electoral votes.

The ALP, always an important factor in New York elections, provided the margin by which the President carried New York in 1940. A month ago today the ALP teamed up with the Democrats again to give a Tammany district leader victory in a special congressional election.

The left wing, which had the support of Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action Committee, claimed to have elected in yesterday's primary 625 of the 750 members of the state committee—the body which nominates the party's presidential candidate.

Both factions had urged a fourth term for President Roosevelt, but the controlling right wing contended "our party is being invaded by the Communist party." A right wing election eve statement had said "we wanted to hand President Roosevelt * * * a nomination immune from criticism and attack."

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel headachy after eating? ☐
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐
Do you feel tired—listless? ☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any druggist—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

Court Rules On Mining Rights
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 29 (AP)—President Judge William A. Valentine of the Luzerne county court, acting as chairman of a state mining commission has ruled that "there is no presumption that the owner of minerals has the right to destroy the earth's surface in mining operations."
Attorneys said the ruling had an important bearing on mine cavein prevention.

"The right of surface support is the rule" and "the privilege of mining the minerals though the surface may be affected thereby is the exception," Valentine said.

Draft Puts End To Goodman's Band

Hollywood, March 29 (AP)—The nation's hepcats were shedding tears and singing the "B. G. Blues" today.

For Benny Goodman, 33, piper of the swing era, has tucked his clarinet into its case and said so long to his band—for good, he says.

Harried by draft depletions of his outfit and contractual difficulties, Goodman finished his latest movie and left for New York and a vacation, abandoning the organization that was once kingpin in popular music.

Set April 10-15 For Corn Borer Cleanup

Harrisburg, March 29 (AP)—The State Defense Council today set the week of April 10 to 15 as corn borer cleanup week in 31 Pennsylvania counties where the infestation of the dangerous garden pest was most severe last year.

"It is very important that something be done now to control spread of the European corn borer in Victory gardens during the coming season," Mrs. H. B. Eliason, chairman of the Council's Victory garden committee, said in a letter asking local garden chairmen to cooperate.

Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst pointed out corn borer damage last year was the greatest in Pennsylvania's history and warning that worse destruction is in prospect unless all plant refuse is pulled up and

PLANES SUPPLY 5 ALLIED UNITS IN PACIFIC AREA

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor
Out of the obscure but important fighting in Burma and India emerged clear evidence today Allied airmen were playing an increasingly decisive role—in offense, defense and supply.

Associated Press War Correspondent William Boni reported from New Delhi that transport planes were now striving to supply no less than five separate Allied forces, variously engaged in halting the Japanese invasion of India or pressing their offensive against Myitkima, principal enemy base in north-central Burma. These planes were serving not only as supply carriers but were evacuating wounded from fighting areas.

Blast Dozen Bases
The aerial pattern was even more obvious in the war against Japanese-held islands in the Pacific ocean. Over a 1,500-mile stretch from Dutch New Guinea to Bougainville Americans and Australians battered a dozen enemy bases with 292 tons of bombs. They hit Rabaul on New Britain, Wewak and Hansa bay on New Guinea, Kavieng on New Ireland, and Bougainville in the Solomons.

The only attack not pressed from the air was a destroyer shelling of Pityili island in the Admiralties, which Americans now have virtually under their thumb.

Twenty-four Japanese planes of a bomber-escorted force were destroyed by Allied fighters in a running battle over north Burma. In the first air action against Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's Chinese-American forces driving from north Burma, a Japanese bomber strafed an American airport. Damage was small.

Boni reported nearly all the dive and fighter bombers available were being thrown into the fight to halt the Japanese drives into India, the most serious of which appeared to be a double movement against Imphal and Kohima.

The ground fighting in this region remained obscure, with latest Allied reports crediting the enemy with determined assaults to break British lines guarding the Imphal-Kohima road. Two other Japanese columns headed toward Imphal were being contained, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters reported.

Radio Tokyo boasted its forces were wiping out British-American airborne troops in north-central Burma. There was no confirming Allied report.

General Stilwell's infantrymen pushed down the Mogaung valley. His Americans wiped out suicide squads with bayonet and grenade. His Chinese fighters captured Hkawnglawyang, a village.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart AP Features

Chapter 9
On the following morning at breakfast time, Adrienne was quick to sense a cool aloofness in Johnny's attitude. She knew he had been deeply hurt by her refusal to take him into her confidence.

"Will you take your coffee now, Johnny?" The casual lightness in her tone did not betray her feeling.

"No thanks." He glanced at her with frowning intensity. "Adrienne, will you tell me what your motive was in accepting an invitation to dine with the Gestapo agent?"

"Ah," she murmured. "So you heard what Raoul said?"

"It was impossible not to hear. You haven't answered me, Adrienne."

Her spirit rose in defiance. "After all, M'sieu Farrel, what right have you to take that tone with me? Am I obliged to tell you the motives for my actions?" Suddenly her eyes fell before his and a note of entreaty replaced the indignation in her voice. "Can't you trust me?"

"Come here Adrienne." He motioned to her to sit down on the couch beside him. "I couldn't love you if I didn't trust you, honey. Now tell me."

Adrienne for the first time in her life found herself dominated by a will stronger than her own. Her uncle had always been inclined to let her have her own way, and Raoul had long since discovered the futility of opposing her plans or desires.

For a moment she was silent. Then she said, "What other motive could I possibly have, but to serve my country? It is for France we are working, for the day when she will be free again. For that we are willing to risk all."

"You hoped then to get valuable information from this man?"

"Yes," she answered, "and this I may yet accomplish. But it was not easy for me, or agreeable."

Let us not talk of it."

"Darling, you must know how dangerous it is for you, and what the penalty would be if you are discovered. Yet you tell me not to talk about it. Do you realize I love you, Adrienne?" He drew her towards him again and held her close.

"You love me, Adrienne?"

"Yes," she breathed, "Could I help it?"

"Would you risk being a flatterer's wife, darling? Will you marry me?"

"Yes, if it were possible, my dear one. But in this country in its present terrible state—how could such a thing be possible?"

"We must find a way, sweetheart," he said, eagerly. "Adrienne, let's make a break for freedom together you and I. We'll get past the Nazis. I've beat them to it many a time in the air—why not on land as well?"

"You don't understand, but it is impossible for me to leave Paris yet. But we—my uncle and I have made a plan for your escape—as soon as your ankle is well enough for you to travel."

"You're trying to make an invalid of me," he said looking up at her, smiling, as she poured his coffee and put a plate of brioches with apricot preserve before him. "As a matter of fact, my ankle's nearly well. I must get away from here, Adrienne. While I'm here I am a burden and danger to you all."

"That cannot be helped," she declared. "We are willing to take the risk to help you."

She went on to explain that illegal passes and permits to travel could be obtained through French and foreign collaborationists who were willing to make bargains with German officers if the price were high enough. But the risk was great in getting past the watchful eyes of German sentries.

"That hide and seek game wouldn't be so funny for me with my game ankle," he interposed with a grin.

"No, our plan will take you towards the coast, but that is all I can say just now."

"Do you know I love you all the more for your courage," he said, drawing her down to him and holding her face between his hands. "But don't expect me to enthuse about a plan that doesn't include you, honey. Of what value would my life be if anything happens to you?"

She felt the intimate concern in his voice, and knew that she had awakened a love in this American that was like nothing else she had known. The knowledge of this thrilled her; yet it saddened her because they must part.

For the instant she relapsed into French. "C'est la guerre," she murmured. "We can only hope for the best, darling. See, I have something to show you—it is my message. You will be pleased to know it was printed." She held out to him a leaflet which she took from the pocket of her apron.

His face lighted up instantly. "That was very decent of your friend Raoul. I was afraid I had got you into difficulty with that effort of mine." He looked up at her with the little humorous smile characteristic of him. "Monsieur de Lamothe took it amiss evidently. Serves me right for butting in."

"You mustn't mind Raoul," she protested. "It is only his way. Sometimes he is difficult." Finished after a minute's hesitation while she sought the right words, then added, "However, he would not dare refuse my uncle's wishes in regard to the leaflets."

"Is he jealous of you, Adrienne?" he demanded.

"He has no right to be," she retorted smiling, "but he is a man after all, and men are apt to be jealous, is it not so?"

"Well, if necessary, I'll give him to understand that for the future he'd better cut that out."

"You mustn't quarrel with him, Johnny," she protested. "It would make it hard for all of us."

"I'll promise not to start anything unless he does. See how well I can walk now." He put his coffee cup down and illustrated the words by rising to his feet and taking some steps without his cane.

"But you limp a little, and that would attract attention," she protested.

"I see you don't want to get rid of me yet," he said laughing.

She laughed as she took up the breakfast tray and left him.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN OKLAHOMA ON TEST ELECTION

Muskogee, Okla., March 29 (AP) — Democrats laid claim today to a national-significant triumph in Oklahoma's special congressional election. Republicans blamed the new deal machine, minimized the results of yesterday's balloting and predicted it'll be different in November.

The state's second district, traditionally Democratic, was made a major battle-ground. National party leaders joined the fray. The Roosevelt administration was called into the issue by both sides.

With only 19 of the eight-county district's 331 precincts still unreported today, and those sparsely-populated, Democrat W. G. Stigler led E. O. Clark, Republican, 21,405 to 17,678 votes.

As politicians tried to appraise the result—looking toward what Oklahoma and other normally-Democratic border states may do in November—these were the immediate tangible developments.

Results of Voting
1. The victory had given the Democrats 217 seats in the House of Representatives against 210 for the Republicans, 4 for minor parties, 4 vacancies.

2. The Democrats had recorded their third triumph in 11 special congressional elections since 1942—

"Ahead of Schedule"

An AAF Report on the Aviation Cadet Program.

Thanks to the young men of America, the AAF is seizing air supremacy in every theatre, faster than we ever planned or even dared to hope.

Thanks to youth's eagerness to serve, the AAF has grown in a remarkably short time from a mere handful of men into the largest, most powerful air force in the world.

Thanks to the fitness and alertness of these young men, they have learned their job so quickly that we have been able to throw our great airplane production into effective combat quicker than we believed possible. Due to their daring and skill we are destroying the enemy with less loss to our own forces than we anticipated.

All air crew men must have the irresistible desire to fly. Every such flying man in the AAF is there on his own initiative . . . in response to our invitation to fly and fight with "The Greatest Team in the World." Hundreds of thousands have thronged to our Aviation Cadet Examining Boards in response to this appeal. Thousands are continuing to volunteer . . . for active duty . . . and for the 17-year-old Air Corps Enlisted Reserve.

Our gratitude to the young men of America, and to their parents, friends and associates . . . is without bounds. We should like to welcome on our team any qualified young man who wishes to join. But there are other considerations . . . a balanced attack must be maintained.

Since last July the Selective Service process had not yielded enough men for all phases of the military program. Other branches of the army urgently need men for currently pending operations.

The AAF is ahead of schedule. It has sufficient men in training and in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve to meet its present schedule for combat crews. It must therefore balance this activity with immediate over-all needs.

As General Marshall has announced, the AAF has returned to their former commands some 36,000 men who had recently volunteered for air crew training from the ground and service forces. Moreover, until further notice, the AAF will not take any men into active duty from civilian life for air crew training. Also, further enrollment in the 17-year-old Air Corps Enlisted Reserve has been temporarily suspended.

The future of America depends upon the fitness of our young men. All of the armed services need young men who are physically fit, mentally alert and well educated for the exacting demands of modern war.

The AAF urges every man approaching military age to prepare himself physically and mentally for his possible contribution to the defeat of our enemies and for his responsibilities in the post-war world.

We suggest, among other things, the physical training and other preparatory courses of the High School Victory Corps which are recommended for the various armed services, and the physical and pre-aviation training given to CAP Cadets by the nation-wide organization of the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the Army Air Forces.

The AAF current training program will, of course, continue. All men now enrolled in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve will start their training after they become 18 as originally planned. And we will soon again take young men of 17 into the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve.

Meanwhile, in recognition of the overwhelming public support given the AAF, we shall continue to report developments—so that when we invite further active enrollment on our flying team, the nation will be familiar with our activities and the vital nature of our needs.
